

WTP6 Workshop Report

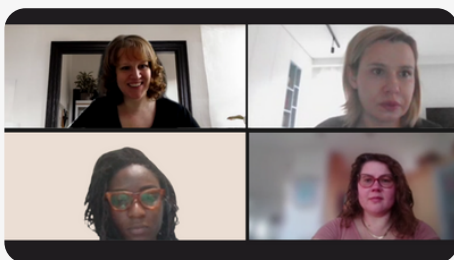

"Develop Your Leadership Potential" Part 2 with Marina Niforos

27 JANUARY 2022
13:30-15:00 CEST

Leadership is a skill that needs to be learnt and practised

For the ninth workshop of the 6th edition of the Women Talent Pool Leadership Programme, Marina Niforos, WIL Board Member and Adjunct Professor at HEC Business School in Paris offered a structure for the Talents to reflect on their individual leadership journeys and competences they had acquired. She highlighted the importance of a leader's ability to understand complex situations and respond to them without bias - the starting point for our Talents to engage in the dynamic group discussions which followed.

The highly interactive group exercises were moderated by four Talents: Tolulope Ayeni, Kamila Bury, Paola Brucker-Dhont and Tatiana Chernyavskaya. Participants were invited to draw on challenging leadership situations and reflect collectively on how to manage them.

The workshop ended with a final discussion in plenary. The group heard from a number of Talents about how being on the WTP had already positively impacted their career and leadership journey.
