

WTP8 Workshop

"Public speaking for Leadership" with
Christelle Cuenin, 4th April, 13:30-15:00 CEST

"With a bit of preparation, regular practice and some creativity, leaders can achieve more impact in public speaking."

ON 4th April 2023, Christelle Cuenin, Career Development and Public Speaking Coach and WIL Fellow, kicked off the first workshop of the 8th edition of the Women Talent Pool (WTP) with a much anticipated 90-minute workshop on Public Speaking. Many people, even some senior leaders, underestimate their ability to deliver speeches and presentations with real impact and use this as a tool to progress in their career. Christelle showed our Talents how they could achieve this, drawing on her wealth of knowledge and examples of famous speeches such as "My year of saying yes to everything" by television screenwriter, Shonda Rhimes.

Two courageous Talents, Tinatin Laoshvili, Senior Consultant at Ernst & Young, and Fatimazahra Imami, Data Scientist at Rexel, then volunteered to give a short speech about their passions and receive feedback from Christelle and the Talents. This was followed by a practice in groups.
